

Ethics for Authors

It is an essential part for every researcher's career to publish their content in a peer reviewed Journal. Your publication benefits yourself, your funder, your organization and equally should benefit the readers. Here, benefit depends upon the quality research work done and on the fact that the standards in publication should be met.

We have provided Author guidelines, Publication Ethics and Malpractice document on home page of every journal, reviewing procedure and publication guidelines as well as the copyright declaration form.

We request authors to state and confess conflict of interest in their manuscripts. We also ensure to submit the soft copy of the declaration form before initiating the review process. Once the article is accepted for publication then we need the original/ print copyright form for our records. Authors are requested to take due care of this point. Author's are requested to submit their content with their orcid id's and oblige.

Our peer review guidelines are stringently provided in the reviewing procedure doc and we ensure to scrutinize articles in the provided procedure. The review process is absolutely transparent for Authors, Editors and Reviewers. We request all the users to support us in maintaining the Ethical Policies and meeting all International standards.
